MEDIA KIT

Laleh Alemzadeh Hancock is a conscious parent, seasoned executive and life-long entrepreneur. She is committed, in both her professional and personal life, to inspiring and empowering others to recognize greater potential in themselves, becoming leaders and to create profound wellness in their bodies and lives.

Laleh is a leadership and entrepreneurial coach, professional services consultant, innovator, personal wellness mentor, a wealth creator and founder of global professional services companies, Belapemo and Global Wellness For All.

Laleh boasts 30+ years of highly-celebrated career in professional services, technology, corporate leadership, strategic partnership & collaboration, investor relations & recruitment, personal and corporate wellness and executive coaching.

Forced to flee Iran as a young girl, and eventually settling in the USA at the age of 11, Laleh's personal story is testament to her intelligence, resilience and entrepreneurial aptitude. A highly respected executive, Laleh has a particular interest in supporting and encouraging the leadership capabilities of all especially women - in business, in the workplace, at home and in the wider community.

Laleh has traveled the globe inspiring and empowering tens of millions of individuals, businesses, executives, families, communities, athletes and veterans, and believes that, through the curiosity of questions and the use of pragmatic tools, every person can have wellness in all facets of their life.

Whether Laleh and her teams are partnering with a Fortune 500 company to create $14M in savings, facilitating an entrepreneur around the globe to create a business or increase revenue, or providing tools on greater wellness in their lives, Laleh and her teams are determined to do whatever it takes to empower their clients to not only reach, but exceed their desired targets.

Laleh is an ardent change-agent, a committed innovator and benevolent capitalist, with a desire to bring global well-being to the forefront of everyone's awareness. As an ambassador of Actions For Futures, Hera Association, WICCI, The KLUB Lifestyle Business & Philanthropy, and her own project, Earthj, Laleh partners with individuals, businesses, and Mother Nature to bring awareness and resources for creating a better tomorrow on planet earth.

One of her contributions of empowering all ages is being featured alongside luminaries such as Oprah Winfrey, Melinda Gates, and Ginni Rometty in the 2019 publication, .America's Leading Ladies: Stories of courage, challenge and triumph.

Currently, Laleh and Global Wellness For All have partnered with Wellcube™ to pioneer the next generation of wellness and well-being lifestyle and living in Dubai.
